Overview of NATSILS

The National Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Legal Services (NATSILS) is the national peak representative body for the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Legal Services (ATSILS) around Australia, including the:

- Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Legal Service (Qld) Ltd (ATSILS Qld);
- Aboriginal Legal Rights Movement Inc. (ALRM);
- Aboriginal Legal Service (NSW/ACT) (ALS NSW/ACT);
- Aboriginal Legal Service of Western Australia Ltd (ALSWA);
- North Australian Aboriginal Justice Agency (NAAJA);
- Tasmanian Aboriginal Community Legal Service (TACLS); and
- Victorian Aboriginal Legal Service Co-operative Limited (VALS).

NATSILS provides a united voice at the national level for the rights of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people and also supports the ATSILS to provide high quality and culturally competent legal services.

About the role

The Legal Secretariat Officer of NATSILS provides high quality secretariat support services to the Executive Officer, Chairpersons of NATSILS and to the NATSILS members.

The Legal Secretariat Officer:

- Exercises discerning skills to research and develop solutions to complex legal services issues informed by an Australia-wide approach to building strong communication across the ATSILS and the broader legal services sector.

- Provides direct strategic advice and analysis services to internal and external stakeholders regarding justice system reform.
- Works closely with the Executive Officer and Chairpersons of NATSILS to ensure NATSILS strategic priorities are designed, achieved and evaluated.
- Coordinates communications, feedback and discussions of state and national issues between ATSILS members and the Commonwealth Attorney General's Department.
- Identifies challenges to access to justice and suggests solutions.
- Drafts submissions in response to commissions of inquiry, reviews and new policy initiatives issued by government.
- Drafts content for external communications with media and other key stakeholders.
- Co-ordinates NATSILS forums, including liaising with members, co-chairs and external third parties attending forums, drafting forum reports and actioning resolutions.

Key Selection Criteria

Knowledge: knowledge and in-depth understanding of the social and legal issues faced by members of the Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander communities across Australia

Values: an alignment to the values and vision of NATSILS through a demonstrated appreciation of and sensitivity to the challenges our clients have faced and continue to face in their right for justice and equity.

Community: ability to work effectively with members of the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander communities, particularly the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Legal Services

Experience: demonstrated experience working in a policy role at a local, State and/or National level and/or excellent research and analytical skills with an ability to draft and analyse legal policy documents and communicate complex legal policies in plain language.

Project management: demonstrated experience in project management, including experience working in the area of legal assistance, research, communications, media or public affairs.

Flexibility: preparedness to work irregular hours and a willingness to travel and present research, findings, project plans and other key materials to forums, media, informal groups and partners.

NATSILS strongly encourages Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people to apply for the role.
